“The Lord is my light and my salvation: whom shall I fear? The Lord is the strength of my life: of whom shall I be afraid?”
Psalm 27:1

: What a great comfort to know that God loves us and will protect us when we are truly faithful to Him. This is the message that we must get to our young people.

Our country is having a break down morally and financially. We have moved far away from God and we are paying the price. Our children are paying a price. God is our only hope for change, not our political system. “If my people who are called by my name shall humble themselves, and pray, and seek my face and turn from their wicked ways; then I will hear from heaven, and will forgive their sin, and will heal their land.” 2nd Chronicles 7:14

We who work with young people have a very large responsibility and also a great opportunity to teach them about God. To help them build a good foundation for life. Life is like a building. It must be built upon a solid foundation. Jesus teaches us that a foolish man built his house upon the sand, when the storm came, it collapsed. The wise man built his house upon a rock—neither wind nor rain could move it. Jesus is the rock. He will provide a sufficient foundation for life.

Our first responsibility to these young ladies is to win them to Christ. Then we must teach them how to live for Christ. They need the opportunity to develop their talents, study their Bible, to learn all they can about our Lord and be constant in prayer. By being faithful to God and learning to make the right choices, their future can still be full of adventure, excitement and opportunities. Their solid foundation requires their reliance on God and it is an awesome task that we have to help them reach that goal. Thank you for your continued prayers and help for the young ladies that God has so graciously placed in our home. May God bless each and every one of you.
